CAMBA Gravel

The gravel riding scene in the Chequamegon Area is rapidly growing as visitors discover this alternative to paved roads and the different experience it engenders. Throughout the region an extensive network of well-maintained gravel roads links numerous small communities and provides connections between county and state highways. Among these roads is a system of numbered Forest Roads in the National Forest as well as town roads. These roads comprise much of the local transportation grid, see regular maintenance and are usually in very good condition.

Deep forests, wildlife viewing areas, spectacular natural attractions, and numerous lakes and streams are to be found along the way. Because they interconnect small communities and link other roads, there may be light traffic.

Route finding is relatively easy. Visit <https://www.cambatrails.org/trails/gravel-riding/> to view an overall area map with all gravel routes, individual “cluster” maps of routes in seven towns around the region, and also GPS tracks.

Winter Mountain Biking

The winter biking scene in the Chequamegon Area has exploded over the past couple of years. Over 50 miles of groomed winter routes are now available for your winter enjoyment. Some routes use existing singletrack trails, while others are specially created winter-only routes. Only fat bikes with 3.75 inch or wider tires are recommended for riding any of these trails during the winter.

Some of these trails are shared with snowshoers, so please be aware of other trail users. Also, many trails intersect groomed cross-country ski trails where riding is not permitted except to cross the trail.

Groomed trails are indicated by specific winter bike route signs. Other routes may be packed by snowshoers or ridden in by bikes. Otherwise, none of the summer trails are maintained during the winter.
