

Do you know CAMBA?

If you are like many people from the area, you see the CAMBA name around but don't really know what or who CAMBA is.

Is CAMBA a nonprofit?

CAMBA is a 501(c)3 nonprofit that works with Sawyer and Bayfield County Forests, Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest and other land owners to create and maintain singletrack dirt trails for bikers, runners, and hikers.

What are CAMBA Trails?

CAMBA has built one of the best mountain biking systems in the region and brings many visitors from the Twin Cities, southern Wisconsin, and nationwide. Mountain biking is one of the fastest growing outdoor activities and we are a super hub with over 130 miles of trails in the spring, summer, and fall, and over 70 miles of winter groomed trails.

Who uses CAMBA Trails?

Mountain bikers, runners, and hikers come to our area just for the CAMBA Trails. It is a popular weekend destination for regional travel and a name that has been on the scene for 30 years.

Mountain biking has also become a mainstream family activity with the start of middle school and high school teams across the country and over 5000 kids participating in Wisconsin and Minnesota alone.

CAMBA drives tourism to the area and can help drive business to you!
